

Educational insttts reopen amid dengue risk

July 9, 2023

Online Desk : All educational institutes across the country reopened on Sunday (9 July) amid dengue fear after a long vacation due to Eid-ul-Azha. Directorate of Secondary and Higher Education (DSHE) have already given some instructions to prevent the spread of Aedes mosquitoes in the institutions. Students, guardians, and teachers too are in a panic of breeding Aedes mosquito as well as other mosquitoes in the institutions as school and colleges were closed for a long time. Earlier, the government has issued five instructions for all public and private educational institutions to prevent further spread of dengue.
