

Case against Nur, Rashed

July 22, 2023

Online Desk: A case has been filed against Gono Odhikar Parishad's president Nurul Haq Nur and general secretary Rashed Khan over the collapsible gate of the office broken incident.

The building owner Miah Moshiuzzaman lodged the case on Thursday (July 20) night at the Paltan Police Station. The police station OC Salauddin Miah confirmed the matter on Friday (July 21) night.

It was learnt that, on Thursday, a scuffle took place between the party men and police members when Gono Odhikar leaders and activists tried to enter the office. At one stage of scuffle, Nur entered the office with his supporters breaking the lock of the collapsible gate. Later, policemen went there and kicked them out.

In the evening, the building owner re-locked the gate. The party general secretary Rashed Khan alleged that they sought help to police members. But instead of help, police charged baton on them.
