

People to know soon who the new president will be: Law minister

January 18, 2023

The Daily Morning Voice Online Desk: Law Minister Anisul Huq today said people will know very soon who will be the new president of the country. Talking to journalists at the secretariat, the minister said as per constitution, election will be held within 60-90 days before expiry of the president's five-year term. When asked about the Brahmanbaria incident, the law minister said, "Had I known about it, things would not have gotten this far."