

Zelensky to meet Biden, address Congress in Washington

December 22, 2022

The Daily Morning Voice Online Desk: Ukraine President Volodymyr Zelensky will meet US President Joe Biden and address Congress on Wednesday during a visit to Washington, his first trip outside his country since Russia invaded in February, the White House said.

Zelensky will join Biden at the White House for the announcement of a “significant new package of security assistance,” said White House spokeswoman Karine Jean-Pierre. A senior administration official said that included advanced Patriot air defense missiles.
